RE: SOE TRAINING

The ALAEA recently applied to the AIRC to resolve a dispute related to a member who had not received Schedule of Experience training more than 12 months after completing a Qantas type training course. At a subsequent conciliation hearing Qantas and the ALAEA agreed to a training program to the satisfaction of the individual member. During the proceeding we also advised the Commissioner and the airline that there are a large number of ALAEA members who also require SOE training to attain type ratings after completing company approved type courses.

We were advised by the Qantas Industrial Relations persons present that it would assist if a full list of those members awaiting training be collated and submitted. The ALAEA needs feedback from all members who have completed a company course more than 12 months ago and are still awaiting SOE training. To do so could members please complete the bottom portion of this notice and fax to the ALAEA on (02) 9954 9644 at the nearest opportunity.
